cooperation of different countries and different systems and through development of economic relations between all countries.

It is in order to discuss this subject that the Conference has been called. In order to facilitate the discussion and to assure to a wider circle of participants the opportunity to discuss their views and to discuss the problems in which they are especially interested, the Initiating Committee proposed at its Copenhagen meeting that the Conference consist of Plenary Sessions followed by sessions of Working Groups and close again with Plenary Sessions. Thus, the first Plenary Sessions would make it possible for the participants to have a basic exchange of their views, the Working Groups would assure the opportunity of discussing special questions in a more concrete way and the closing Plenary Sessions would make it possible to review the results and conclusions reached in the discussions of the Working Groups.

Following this general idea the Initiating Committee decided at its second meeting which took place yesterday to submit to the Conference the proposed Program of Work which has been distributed today and is in your hands. With regard to this Program I should like to make the following comments.

The general intent of the Program is to avoid overburdening the participants with meetings, in order to give them the maximum time for establishing personal contact and in particular business contacts, which is the main objective of our Conference. For this reason we shall have on principle meetings only in the morning, with the exceptions of two days, April 5 and April 7, when additional meetings of Working Groups have to be called in order to provide for sufficient discussion time in the Working Groups.

Consequently, the working program of the Conference is as follows:

Today, tomorrow and after tomorrow, April 4 and 5, at 10 a. m., there are to be Plenary Sessions devoted to the general discussion of the subject matter of our Conference.

On April 5, in the afternoon, the meetings of Working Groups in which the Working Groups constitute themselves and open their discussions. Then, April 6 is a Sunday, a day on which there will be no meetings.

Finally, on April 7, that means Monday, there are two meetings in the morning and in the afternoon of Working Groups.

On April 8 there is only one meeting in the morning of Working Groups, so that the reporters of the Working Groups have in the afternoon time to prepare for the Plenary Sessions, and on April 9 and 10 there will be two Plenary Sessions where the result of the work of the Working Groups can be discussed, and, finally, the closing of the Conference taking place on the 10th of April, as planned.

This is the working program which I should like to submit to your consideration and eventually—adoption.

This material procured by Central Intelligence Agency.

Rules of Procedure of the Conference

(Adopted at the Plenary Session, April 3, 1952)

I. PRESIDING COMMITTEE AND SECRETARIAT

1. The Conference elects a Presiding Committee consisting of 15-18 persons and a Secretary General.

II. PLENARY SESSIONS AND WORKING GROUPS

2. The Conference consists of Plenary Sessions, sessions of Working Groups, and closing Plenary Sessions.

3. Each Plenary Session is presided over by a chairman designated for that purpose by the Presiding Committee from among its members.

4. The General Secretary keeps a stenographic record of each Plenary Session. This record is open for inspection to all participants of the Conference. Proposals for corrections in the record are decided upon by the Presiding Committee.

5. Working Groups will be established to deal with the following subjects:

1) Development of international trade;
2) International economic cooperation for the solution of social problems;
3) Problems of underdeveloped countries.

6. The chairman of each Working Group is elected by the Plenary Session and becomes a member of the Presiding Committee of the Conference.

7. Each Working Group elects one or several vice-chairmen and reporters.

8. The reporter of each Working Group shall present to the Plenary Session a summarized report of the results of the discussion in his Working Group.

III. PROCEDURE OF DISCUSSION

9. The same rules of procedure for discussion apply to Plenary Sessions and to Working Groups.

10. Any discussion of the respective merits of different economic and social systems shall be ruled out of order.

11. Participants will be given the floor in order of their requests. However, points of order will take precedence over other points. In case of doubt, the question whether a point is a point of order shall be decided by an immediate vote (without discussion) of those present at the meeting if the speaker is unwilling to accept the ruling of the chairman.

12. The chairman of each meeting may propose a time limit for speeches and the closing of the list of speakers. Such proposals shall be submitted for approval by the participants of the meeting.

13. Simultaneous translation facilities will be provided for the following languages: French, Russian, English, Chinese, German and Spanish. Participants wishing to use other languages should provide their own translators.
